

SUMMER OF PSALMS

A tropical sunset scene with palm trees silhouetted against a bright orange and yellow sky. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm glow. The palm trees are scattered across the landscape, some in the foreground and some in the background.

You, God, are my God, earnestly I seek you; I thirst for you, my whole being longs for you, in a dry and parched land where there is no water. I have seen you in your sanctuary and beheld your power and your glory. Because your love is better than life, my lips will glorify you. I will praise you as long as I live, and in your name I will lift up my hands.

I will be fully satisfied as with the richest foods; with singing lips my mouth will praise you. On my bed I remember you; I think of you through the watches of the night. Because you are my help, I sing in the shadow of your wings. I cling to you; your right hand upholds me.

Those who want to kill me will be destroyed;
they will go down to the depths of the earth.
They will be given over to the sword and become food for jackals. But the king will rejoice in God; all who swear by God will glory in him, while the mouths of liars will be silenced.

On the last and greatest day of the festival, Jesus stood and said in a loud voice, “Let anyone who is thirsty come to me and drink. Whoever believes in me, as Scripture has said, rivers of living water will flow from within them.”

John 7:37-38

A tropical sunset scene with palm trees silhouetted against a bright orange and yellow sky. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm glow. The palm trees are scattered across the landscape, some tall and slender, others shorter and fuller. The overall mood is peaceful and serene.

The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field. When a man found it, he hid it again, and then in his joy went and sold all he had and bought that field.
